“ Carol, you are probably the sweetest, kindest, gentlest person I have ever known. It might sound cliché, but you are just a very good person, pure gold to the core. In over 50 years of friendship, I don't recall seeing you get angry and you never had a bad word to say about anyone. We were family, not just friends. Bill and I looked forward to your time with us every year, and the trips we took with you and Aaron are special memories. You were always game for a new adventure.....camping, hiking, horseback riding, rafting, fishing, hunting, you were game to try anything and Bill loved having our goofy, silly company on these adventures! You always loved to laugh and had such a great sense of humor. You were such a wonderful Mom and Aaron is so like you. You were always just a solid presence in my life. I will miss you always, but will see you again! Thank you for being a such a sweet and true friend!

“ They say how to get to know a person quickly is to listen to what she says and watch how she does things. When I first met Carol, she gave me an impression that she was just like a beautiful butterfly. She was so young and graceful, she is soft spoken, always smiling, considerate, and trust other people especially her husband David. Now this beautiful butterfly is in heaven, I am sure she will be free and happy forever because she is an angel now.
